Ernest Jones, Released From Local Jail Friday Afternoon, Is Arrested at Paris and Admits Forging Check at Local Store.

Policeman Carl Carpenter went to Paris Monday afternoon and returned that night having in custody Ernest Jones, who was arrested by the Paris authorities on request of the local officers as a suspect in the forgery of a check here last Friday which was passed on M. Galanty & Son, local clothing merchants.

Jones, admits that he is the man who forged the check and as an excuse says he was out of money and was compelled to have money to get to Paris.

Jones was arrested several days ago for loitering and was placed in the Mason county jail. He was released Friday afternoon and evidently went direct from the jail to the Galanty store where he procured enough money on the forged paper to pay his fare to Paris. Jones is said to be a bad actor with a record. He is said to have served two terms in the state school of reform.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TRAFFIC SIGNS ARE NEEDED.

Considerable complaint has been filed recently with the police against automobile speeding in the local school districts endangering the students of the schools. Some several months ago traffic signs for the school and hospital districts were ordered by the city officials but they have never arrived. The present city officials should look into this matter immediately and have the warnings installed in places that all auto drivers may be warned. Following the installation of these signs, that section of the traffic laws requiring speed to be reduced in such districts should be enforced.

NATURAL SIN IS DISCUSSED BY EVANGELIST

The Abiding Place of Sin and the One Form of Regeneration Is Topic of Rev. Harmon.

The abiding place of sin and how man may be freed from sin was the general theme of Rev. Harmon's sermon at the First M. E. Church, South, Monday night. He explained many scriptural passages where it is shown that potential sin resides in the human heart from birth until conscious regeneration through the grace of God takes place. No salvation is possible without complete change of heart. The evangelist pleaded with his congregation that the parents realize the fearful responsibility resting upon them in the training of their children, for the eternal life of the child is largely dependent upon the early curbing of their sinful nature. He lamented the present lack of the sense of sin, and deeply impressed his hearers with the truth that the only route back to God is through an individual's consciousness of sin, which will lead him to seek divine forgiveness and open the channels through which God's Holy Spirit may create a new heart. Rev. Harmon stressed the fact that the earnestness of church members largely determines the earnestness with which sinners seek salvation.

A short prayer service is held each evening in the "Upper Room", over the Sunday school room, beginning at 6:45. All who are deeply concerned about the progress of the revival are asked to meet there for special intercession.

MASON COUNTY COWS ARE ON HONOR ROLL

Four Mason County Jerseys Win Place in List of State's Best Producers During December.

Thirty-eight Kentucky dairy cows including 14 Jerseys and 24 Holsteins owned by 18 dairymen in 12 different counties of the state, won a place for themselves on the December honor roll of the state by producing record amounts of butterfat in tests conducted during the month by the College of Agriculture according to an announcement by J. J. Hooper, head of the college dairy department.

Twenty of the animals on the December list are on yearly test and produced more than three pounds of butterfat during the two days that they were tested. Sixteen of the remaining cows were Holsteins tested for seven days, while the remaining two were Jerseys tested for 30 days.

Oakwood Segis DeKol Johanna, a Holstein owned by the Kentucky Holstein Farm, Bardstown, was the leading animal among those tested for two days. She produced 6.95 pounds of butterfat during that time. Lady Hamburg, owned by W. O. Ashurst, Georgetown, was the leading Holstein among those of the seven-day test, with a record of 22.74 pounds of butterfat during that time. Meadow Holm, owned St. Rose Farm, Springfield, was the highest producing Holstein among those on the 30-day test, this animal having produced 63.44 pounds of butterfat during that time.

Washington county had eight cows on the list, Oldham, Nelson, Mason and Boone four each, Shelby and Jefferson three each, and Fayette, Scott and Campbell two each. Kenton and Gallatin counties each had one cow on the December list.

Owners of the high-producing cows together with the number of animals they had on the list follow:

SILK STOCKING CANVASSERS ARE STOPPED BY OFFICIALS

Young Men Selling Ladies and Gentlemen's Silk Hosiery Are Asked to Take Out Peddlers' License.

Young men who were canvassing the city with silk hosiery for ladies and gentlemen, were before Chief of Police James Mackey Monday evening. The young men were requiring a payment on the hosiery before they were shipped and the balance to be paid on the C. O. D. package when delivered by the parcel post deliveryman.

Chief Mackey informed the young men that they would be required to take out a city license before they could proceed Tuesday with the selling of their wares. They went before City Attorney Cola who gave them the same opinion that was given them by Chief Mackey. Both officials informed the young men that they would be required to pay a license of twenty-five dollars per day. If they continued their operations.

Thinking this license a little too much, the young men left for another city where there is no such license requirement as there is in the City of Maysville.

MORROW TO REMAIN ON JOB UNTIL STRIKE ENDS

Governor at Newport to Do His Best To Bring Steel Mill Strike Now on For Weeks, To An End.

Newport, Ky., Jan. 17. — Governor Edwin P. Morrow was in Newport Tuesday to begin conferences with representatives of Newport Rolling Mills Co. and striking employees, which, he says, he will not abandon until the strike has been settled. First conference was held at the Newport court house.

The governor would not indicate whether he has any designated plan upon which he will base his endeavors to settle the strike.

"I want to know what representatives of the two sides think should be done," he said. "I will talk it over with them before I make any suggestions."

Governor Morrow, who is registered at the Gibson Hotel, Cincinnati, said: "There will be committees from neither side escorting me to Newport or return. I know the way to Newport, and I'll go there as I always have done—with a friendly feeling toward all." The governor said he must be in Frankfort again Wednesday, but expected to return to Newport the following day and renew his efforts to settle the strike.

STOLEN GUN FOUND IN LEWIS COUNTY BY THE OFFICERS

Local Police Attach Another House Hobby to William Kellum, This Being the Fourth To Be Charged To Him.

About Christmas time someone broke into the home of Charles Hafer in the east end of the city and stole therefrom a rifle and a shot gun. This robbery was committed about the same time a series of other robberies have been laid by the police to William Kellum, who was recently arrested in Cincinnati and Tuesday Chief Mackey and Policeman Carpenter elinched the nail on the fourth theft and charged Kellum with it.

Chief Mackey and Officer Carpenter have both been working very hard on this series of robberies and they are to be congratulated upon the success their efforts have met.

Several days ago, Chief Mackey located what he thought was one of the stolen Hafer guns in Lewis county and Tuesday morning Officer Carpenter and Mr. Hafer went to Concord to look at the gun. At about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Officer Carpenter telephoned to Chief Mackey that they had located the gun and that Mr. Hafer had completely identified it as his.

The officers say they have proof that Kellum sold the gun to the Lewis county man with whom it was located.

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

A CANADIAN EXAMPLE

At the rate of 100,000 every minute of the twenty-four hours cigars and cigarettes are consumed in the United States, statisticians find. In nine cases in ten those who discard 100,000 cigar and cigarette butts every minute think little about the possibility of destructive conflagrations resulting from burning butts coming into contact with combustible materials.

How many billions of dollars worth of property has gone up in smoke as a result of the carelessness of smokers nobody knows. Reports indicate that about 40 per cent. of forest fires in some of the western reserves are caused by cigarette or cigar butts.

A camp fire is a recognized source of danger which, as such, is considered by the camper. But often the same camper omits to see that the butt he cases aside is "dead."

In each package of cigarettes a Canadian manufacturer puts a small red slip on which is printed:

Please don't throw away a lighted cigarette. See that it is dead. Lighted tobacco and matches are especially destructive to forests.

Living forests mean liberal employment; dead forests employ nobody.

Don't be responsible for a dead forest.

This caution is printed as a contribution to the forest conservation movement.

There is no skyscraper conservation movement; no organization for the conservation of city blocks, public buildings, stocks of merchandise, lives of citizens, which may be wiped out by fire despite the best efforts of fire fighters. But would not the emulation of the Canadian example be highly constructive propaganda in America?

Might it not reduce appreciably the enormous fire losses which are paid by every payer of premiums for fire insurance?

Some time ago The Courier-Journal was taken severely to task by a representative of a great American purveyor of smoking tobacco in its various forms for saying that many fires were caused by discarded "live" cigarette and cigar butts.

The writer of the protest asserted that a flame was necessary ordinarily to ignite fairly combustible substances. He had tried, he declared, to light a camp fire with a cigarette butt, and could not light it. A match applied to the same material lighted it instantly.

"Is The Courier-Journal opposing smoking?" he asked, irrelevantly, and irritably.

At any rate the Canadian manufacturer who distributed valuable propaganda with each package of cigarette is not opposing smoking. He is advocating what should be ordinary caution to prevent destruction of property.—Courier-Journal.

THEY CAN'T GO UP FOREVER

According to Government figures, the cost of living in Chicago dropped 18.3 per cent. between June, 1920, and September, 1921.

The decrease in the cost of food was 31.2 per cent. and in the cost of clothing 38 per cent. The general decrease in the cost of living would have been much greater except for an increase of 38 per cent. in rents.

These figures have not served to enthrone people in Chicago over a recent announcement that there will be a further increase of about 35 per cent. in local taxation for 1922. So large an increase in taxes means an increase in rents, even when landlords are conscientious in their demands. And some landlords have not been conspicuously conscientious in this direction during the past two years.

Men in public life who refuse to look at the question of taxation from the viewpoint of the average man are in for some rough going. Taxpayers think in millions—but the taxpayers still have to pay in nickels and dimes and dollars.

The increase in the tax burdens of the American people during the past five years has been without precedent in all our history. And Americans are not born, as many Europeans are, to the idea of spending their lives working for the government.

Our problem of municipal taxation in Cincinnati is different from that of many American cities, because our city government has not had a free hand financially for ten years. The Smith Law has forced economy, so far as the ordinary running expenses of the city government are concerned. But even in Cincinnati there has been a great increase in taxation for the schools and county, and the crazy ten-cent issue bonds for all sorts of purposes has had an inevitable striking effect upon the tax rate.

The papers are carrying advertisements of bread at pre-war prices. There have been striking reductions in other lines. Prices are really coming down. Sooner or later the cost of government in general will have to come down, too.—Commercial-Tribune.

VANDERLIP CONVERTED

Mr. F. A. Vanderlip is quoted as saying the Versailles Treaty is "the most unwise document ever struck off." We agree with him, but heretofore Mr. Vanderlip has been looked upon as one of the friends of the league of nations covenant, which is chapter one of that treaty.

PULETS HATCHER EARLY BOOST THE EGG PROFITS.

Kentucky farmers can increase the profits from their poultry flocks by having their pullets hatch early this spring in order for them to start laying next fall and winter when eggs are high priced, according to suggestions being made by members of the College of Agriculture poultry department. The first hatch should be out by March 1 and the last one not later than May 1 in order for farmers to take advantage of the opportunity to have winter eggs, the poultrymen say.

Fresh eggs are highest in the late fall and winter because hens stop laying then to molt and grow a new crop of feathers, the poultrymen have pointed out in their suggestions. As a general rule, the supply of eggs continues to slump during that period of the year until the pullets begin to lay. By having the pullets hatch early in the spring, they will begin to lay when the hens are molting.

Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds begin to lay when about seven months old, Leghorns, Minorcas and hens of the lighter breeds begin when about six months old.

Another advantage of early hatching pointed out by the poultrymen is the fact that surplus cockerels from early hatches sell for high prices as broilers.

COLLECTOR MAKES STATEMENT ON REVENUE LAWS

Collector Lucas Makes Statement on the Revenue Laws Becoming Effective.

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue, Robert H. Lucas, District of Kentucky.

Forms 1040A, revised and simplified, for filing individual returns of income for the calendar year 1921 of $5,000 and less will be available Wednesday, January 18 at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, Louisville, and the following branch offices: Lexington, Covington, Ashland, Paducah and Owensboro. A copy will be mailed to taxpayers who last year filed a return, but failure to receive the form does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file a return on time—on or before March 15th, 1922. The form has been reduced from six to four pages, two of which are devoted to instructions which should be carefully read by the taxpayer before filling in the blanks. A study of these instructions will greatly lessen difficulties heretofore encountered in correctly making out the returns.

On page 1, under the head of "Income" are spaces for reporting the following items: salaries, wages, commissions, etc.; income from partnerships, fiduciaries, etc.; rents and royalties; profit (or loss) from business or profession; profit (or loss) from sale of real estate; profit (or loss) from sale of stocks, bonds, etc.; and other income. Beneath are spaces for entering deductions, such as interest and taxes paid during the year; losses by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty or by theft, contributions, bad debts, etc.

On page 2 are spaces for entering explanations of the various items; i. e., the total amount of income from business or profession, with description ("grocery," "retail clothing," "drug store," "laundry," "doctor," "lawyer," "farmer") from rents, and royalties, sale of property, etc.

Returns are required of every single person and every married person not living with husband or wife, whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, and of every married person living with husband or wife whose net income was $2,000 or more. If the combined net income of husband, wife and dependent minor children equaled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income of husband, wife and dependent minor children equaled or exceeded $5,000, all such income must be reported on a joint return or in separate returns of husband and wife. If single and the net income including that of dependent minors, if any, equaled or exceeded $1,000, or if the gross income equaled or exceeded $5,000, a return must be filed. A minor, however, having a net income of $1,000 or $2,000, according to marital status or a gross income of $5,000, must file a return. The requirement to file a return of gross income, regardless of the amount of net income, upon which the tax is assessed is a new provision.

"Net Income" is gross income less certain deductions which are explained on the form.

Under each of the above conditions, a return must be filed even though no tax is due. The exemptions are $1,000 for single persons and married persons not living with husband or wife, $2,500 for married persons living with husband or wife whose net income for 1921 was $5,000 or less and $2,000 for such persons whose net income was more than $5,000. The exemptions for dependent "a person under eighteen years of age or mentally or physically defective" has been increased from $200 to $400.

A head of a family—a single person who actually supports in one household one or more persons closely related to him (or her) by blood, marriage or adoption, is granted the same exemptions allowed a married person, but a return must be filed if the income is $1,000 or over, even though no tax is due.

The normal tax rates are unchanged 4 per cent. on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 per cent. on the remaining net income. The tax this year, as last, may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

Heavy penalties are provided by the new revenue act for failure to file a return and pay the tax on time.

Announcement will be made through the press of the date of release of Forms 1040 for filing individual return of income of more than $5,000.

My back hurt nearly all the time and I couldn't do my washing on account of the misery in my back. I couldn't sleep at night and mornings I could get up feeling all right. I would be dizzy and could see black specks before my eyes. My kidneys didn't act regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. My hands and arms would get numb and cold. Conference January 31 and February 1.

Lexington, Ky. — County road officials in Kentucky, road contractors and all persons interested in the construction and maintenance of highways are to have a special invitation to attend the regional conference on highway economics and transport to be held at the University of Kentucky January 31 and February 1, these in charge of the program have announced. Plans for the meeting, which are being completed rapidly, indicate that it is to be one of the most important road meetings held in the state in recent years, according to the announcement.

Kentucky's road problems, the relation of the U. S. Bureau of Education to highway development, the place of Federal aid in highway development, the future of highway transport, developments in highway engineering research, safety first education, the overloading of motor trucks and its relation to road building and maintenance, and the training a highway engineers have been scheduled among the important subjects to be taken up at the meeting.

A banquet to be held on the night of January 31 is expected to be one of the features of the conference, according to plans being made for it. Thomas H. McDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; Joe S. Boggs, state highway engineer for Kentucky; Representative John M. Robinson and E. S. Jordan, president of the Jordan Motor Company will be speakers at the banquet.

Other speakers on the program will be W. S. Bosler, assistant state highway engineer for Kentucky; Miss Harriett Beard, supervisor of safety education, Detroit, Mich.; Dr. J. J. Tigert, United States commissioner of education; Dr. W. K. Hatt, of the National Research Council; Dr. J. G. McKay, of the University of Wisconsin and D. V. Terrell, a member of the civil engineering department of the university.

The meeting will be concluded with a tour of inspection over highways in and around Lexington.

LARCUE FARMERS PLAN TO STRESS BALANCED SYSTEM.

Plans for a balanced program in farming, recently started at a meeting of Larcue county farmers, are developing rapidly, according to a report from County Agent J. W. Jones. More diversity in the crops grown will receive special attention from the farmers under the new plan for the coming year. Home grown protein for cows and hogs, and three or four cows on nine farm of every man who will take care of them also will be stressed in the movement.

GOVERNMENT PUTS MAYSVILLE IN FOURTH
DISTRICT ON SECURITIES.

Government Securities Sold in This Section of Kentucky To Be Handled Through Cleveland.

Postmaster Kehoe states that he has received an announcement from the United States Treasury Department that that part of northern Kentucky comprising the Lexington area of the Fourth Federal Reserve District, which includes this community, hereafter will function in the sale of Government Savings Securities through the Fourth Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, Ohio, instead of the Eighth Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Missouri. This means that northern Kentucky is to be joined with Ohio in the sale of Government Savings Securities, and as the Buckeye state has continuously lead all other states in the sale of these securities ever since they were first put on sale, during the war, the sales in Kentucky must be materially increased to keep pace with the Ohioans.

The new 1922 Treasury Savings Certificates are now available in denominations of $1,000, $100 and $25, at cost prices of $90, $90 and $20 respectively. These certificates pay 4 1/2 per cent. interest compounded semi-annually if held until maturity, five years from date of issue. They can, however, be redeemed any time prior to maturity, in which event interest is paid at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent. compounded semi-annually. They are free from all state and local taxes, and any individual, corporation or partnership can own up to $5,000 worth of this issue. They are issued in registrable form only, insuring the owner against all loss, and are always worth more than the cost, as they are not subject to any market fluctuation.

Postmaster Kehoe is now ready to receive applications for the purchase of these certificates, and any additional information can also be secured from the Savings Division, Fourth Federal Reserve District, Columbus, Ohio.

Some people would talk more if we'd stop long enough to give them a chance to get started.

AMERICAN SHRINE TO BE IN LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

Washington, D. C. — The Declaration of Independence and the original draft of the Constitution of the United States are to be preserved to posterity in a bronze tabernacle in the exhibition corridor over the door of the library of Congress, if present plans of Herbert L. Putnam, librarian, bear fruit. The tabernacle will be so constructed that the precious papers will be preserved from the action of light, air, dampness and, as much as possible, time, while permitting the parchment to be viewed by the general public. The originals have been for years in the State Department, but are now in the vaults in the national library.

Congress will be asked in the present session for an appropriation sufficient to construct the tabernacle and at the same time make provision for other archives of the government which in their original form are priceless from a patriotic, historic and educational standpoint.

Poultice are being made from potatoes and men's collars from milk. If some friend of humanity would only discover a method whereby the squeal of the croaker could be transformed into an article of diet and the wasted energy of the knocked harness and used for motive power, we would feel that the millennium was close at hand.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York.—Manhattan island having utilized pretty nearly every inch of its surface and a good many acres of its underground, and having stretched its buildings up for hundreds of feet into the air, is now about to take over the sky above it. The night clouds will be turned into great flashing billboards if two New York advertising companies succeed in their plan. Million candle-power searchlights can silhouette words against the clouds, it is said, and the two companies are working out the details of doing it. Fancy the disturbance if rival claimants carried on a fight for space on the same cloud! Well, I love New York and its lights and even its ads, but somehow when I look up at the Milky Way, I DON'T want to be adured from there to wear a certain kind of rubber heels or—worse—buy chewing gum!

—NY—
Maybe it isn't only chance that leads to one's occasionally hearing the same good jokes and funny stories from various after-dinner speakers in various parts of the country. For I have just come upon the newest profession based upon getting the greatest service to the greatest number of people at an economy of thought and time. It's that of the joke syndicator! He was discovered by a reported at a recent annual society dinner in New York; a serious-eyed young man jotting down notes from time to time during the speeches "What's the big news?" the reporter asked, "No news at all," replied the serious young man. "Just the jokes. I'm a joke syndicator. I go to public dinners whenever a good speaker is announced and take down all the really funny stories. Then I sell them to my clients in all the small cities, men attending such affairs and wanting to make a hit. I have a big list and they are willing to pay for new stories. I attend five or six dinners a week for this purpose."

—NY—
The Theater Guild has produced and that is an announcement of more than ordinary theatrical interest. Moreover, they have produced it so well that the tense, tragic quality of the Russian dramatist is put before you and driven home to your mind and heart in its full power. The story is that of equestrian queen, who is admired by co-workers of the circus and, less nobly, by the fat Baron Regnard. Then comes the clown known only as "He who gets slapped." It seems that life has slapped him until he gets a queer satisfaction from physical blows received in his clowning. He falls in love with the beautiful horsewoman and saves her from marriage to the Baron by poisoning her and himself. It is exceptionally well done, as one expects from the Theater Guild, and the addition to their forces of Richard Bennett and Margalo Gillmore makes them stronger than ever.

—NY—
Maybe future cops will know this as the "finger-print age." Anyhow New York women who favor the costumes of a certain famous French modiste will be certain hereafter that they have the original models and not those of some clever copyist. In future every gown originating from her atelier will bear a mark of identity her autograph, a special number and most conclusive of all, her thumbprint. It will probably become one of the interests of bondoir visits to compare gown label thumbprints.

—NY—
With approximately $1,500,000 in furs stolen by left and store thieves during 1921, the furriers of New York and insurance companies which have been hardest hit by the crime wave have begun the formation of a police department of their own whereby the fur district will be heavily guarded, without dependence upon the city force.

There is one bachelor in Manhattan who never again will accompany any of his married friends on a Sunday morning walk unless he has full specifications as to the personnel of the wheel party. Alexander Howard it is, and his story is truly pathetic when you hear it firsthand. Last Sunday he agreed to a walk through the park with a life-long friend, and was very tolerant when he discovered that the L.F. had his youngest daughter with him, and that she moreover had with her, a lovely doll and doll carriage. But she got suddenly tired in the middle of the park and began crying for her mother. "Not for panicky," explains Mr. Howard, and shouted at me, "I'll take her home on the street-car, and you come along as soon as you can." There I was with the pink and lacy doll-carriage and the doll and I had to wheel them all the way home all alone.

GORDON SULSER
APPOINTED CHAIRMAN
Woodrow Wilson Foundation for Mason County — Drive Opens Next Monday—Let All Respond.

During the coming week, the people of the United States, regardless of their political affiliations, will be asked to make a free-will offering of one million dollars, in recognition of the services of Woodrow Wilson to his country, and to the world. In the greatest crisis in the history of our race, he gave himself in full surrender to the cause of human freedom and world peace; shall we not count it a glad privilege to express our appreciation of him by this testimonial which he is yet with us?

This fund is to be called the Woodrow Wilson Foundation; it is to be invested in securities; and expended in awards for distinguished public service; its administration will be entrusted to a National Committee, of which Franklin D. Roosevelt is chairman, and Hamilton Holt is executive director. Every subscriber to this fund will receive a Founder's Certificate, engraved with the fact of the greatest of living Americans.

No part of the fund will be given to President Wilson. Annual awards will be made, in the name of Mr. Wilson, "To the individual group that has rendered within a specified period, meritorious service to democracy, public welfare, liberal thought, or to peace through justice." It will not only serve to commemorate the ideals of Mr. Wilson and his services to humanity, but will be a means through which public service may be encouraged and conspicuously recognized in this and future generations. Appreciation is one of the best and most helpful virtues a people can possess and certainly rewards given in behalf of peace and public welfare are bound to bring happy and helpful results to humanity. If the world really wants peace, it must strive for it. Is it not better to reward individuals for their efforts in behalf of peace and public welfare than to educate them for war and reward them for the accomplishments of a cruelties, or pension and support them on account of the misfortunes it visits upon those that engage in it. Let all people set their hearts and minds against war and it will perish from the earth. The way to kill war is to encourage peace by rewarding those who strive for it through justice. That is the object of this movement. If you wish to help and encourage it, make a contribution. Large contributions are not necessary. We can raise Mason county's quota without burdening any one. A few $10, $5 and a number of $1 subscriptions will put Mason over the top and sustain her well earned reputation for doing her full duty in every meritorious public work ever undertaken by the American people.

The upstanding, forward-looking peace loving people of this country are behind this movement. Let us not fail to do our full part. Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, is State Chairman. Hon. J. N. Kehoe, of this city, is Chairman of the Ninth Congressional District, and Mr. Gordon Sulser, of this city, is Chairman of this county. Mr. Sulser will announce his helpers for this county, at once. No part of the funds collected can be used for expenses of any kind. Everybody helping will have to pay their own expenses and work solely for the good of the cause.

Don't wait for the solicitors to call on you. See them. Have a part in this noble undertaking.

LEGUMES GOOD TONIC FOR WORN OUT SOILS.

Large areas of poor soils in Kentucky could be improved for crop production if more legumes such as clover, cowpeas and soybeans were grown on them, specialists at the College of Agriculture say. At the present time, the state has only about one acre of legumes, not including Japan clover, to every 30 acres of improved land or about one and one-half acres to each farm, an amount which is much too small to maintain soil fertility, the specialists say. Legumes, which have been a neglected crop in the state up to the present time, are of more value than any other class of crops when the fertility of the soil is considered, according to the specialists.

Red clover is to the principal legume grown at the present time with soybeans second and cowpeas third. Japan clover grows wild extensively in the state and is sometimes seeded. Alfalfa is grown largely in two counties while several others have small areas. Sweet and alsike clover complete the legumes used by farmers in the state.

The chief advantage of legumes is the fact that they replenish the nitrogen supply of poor soils, the specialists say. As soon as the nitrogen supply has been furnished, the soils respond to treatment with phosphate fertilizers, thus making possible for the farmers to rebuild them to a point where they produce larger crop yields. The state should have at least 1,500,000 acres of clover alone for hay and soil improvement on cultivated land, according to the specialists. Most of the pasture land of the state also should be seeded with a mixture containing a legume. In cases where the soil requires liming before legumes can be made a success the specialists have recommended that annual legumes be grown. Crops of this kind, such as cowpeas, need to be followed by a fall cover crop, such as rye, to prevent erosion losses which, in some cases, are greater than the gain from growing legumes.

Everyone will be happy as long as we don't want things we can't have.
